

Supporting Families Toolkit

Redcar and Cleveland Borough Council

Thriving children, fulfilling their dreams.

Practice Toolkit

Objectives

This toolkit is an interactive PDF document with hyperlinks to provide practitioners with a central point where they can access practice guidance, service contacts and tools to support them in delivering positive and sustainable outcomes for children and families.

Who is it for?

The Supporting Families Toolkit is structured to support Local Authority practitioners and staff in our multi-agency partner organisations to identify and respond to significant issues within families. The issues within the Supporting Families Outcome Framework are known to have a negative impact on a child's wellbeing and life chances, and here we have provided some of the information and tools that practitioners will need to support these needs.

Why are we doing this?

The toolkit is grouped under the Supporting Families Headlines so that when practitioners are working with children and families, they can consider all of these issues in their assessments and have resources to draw on to help them in their work with families.

It is hoped that this toolkit will become a well-used 'desk-top' resource that provides all practitioners with quick links to local and national support services and tools; whether at an early help level, or for social workers when supporting children through statutory assessments and plans.

If you would like to add more resources to this toolkit, or to report a broken link please email supportingfamielstoolkit@redcar-cleveland.gov.uk

Good Early Years Development

Good early years development improves children's life chances. Support for families may begin before a child is born and expectant or new parents who require additional support may be eligible for the programme. Providing guidance for parents and developmental support for babies and young children is essential for delivering strong health and educational outcomes for children, ensuring they have a positive start in their early years.

Improved Mental and Physical Health

Complex families have disproportionately high levels of health problems compared with the general population. Poor mental health is particularly pertinent, with over two fifths of families offered support having a family member with a mental health problem. Health needs have a significant impact on the whole family and may require specialist support.

Promoting Recovery & Reducing Harm from Substance Misuse

Substance misuse is a long term and complex problem that may have a significant impact on vulnerable families. Recovering from addiction and substance misuse is complex and, in many cases, recovery is not a linear process. There is clear evidence that growing up in a family affected by parental (or significant other adult's) substance misuse can cause significant harm to a child's wellbeing and to their long-term outcomes.

Theme 6

Improved Family Relationships

Families who face multiple and complex needs may require support to develop positive and supportive relationships within the family. Conflict in relationships is expressed through many different behaviours which can have an impact on families' lives. When conflict is between parents, it can have negative effects on their children's mental health and wider development. The impact of violence or abuse inflicted by children towards other members of the family, and the impact of unmet needs for young carers should also be recognised.

Children Safe from Abuse and Exploitation

Children who experience, or who are risk of, abuse and exploitation are amongst the most vulnerable in society. Children could be at risk from harms within or outside the home or both. Some children are at additional risk from harm such as going missing and radicalisation. Effective multi-agency working that operates across geographical boundaries can prevent the needs of these children and their families from escalating to more intensive statutory services.

Crime Prevention & Tackling Crime

Crime and anti-social behaviour have a significant negative impact on individuals and communities as well as having a significant financial cost on society. This theme covers young people who are involved or at risk of becoming involved in crime and anti-social behaviour as well as adults who are involved in crime and anti-social behaviour. This reflects the evidence that parental anti-social or criminal behaviour is a significant factor in youth offending. The children of offenders are also more likely to be excluded from school and twice as likely to suffer from behavioural and mental health problems.

Safe from Domestic Abuse

All forms of domestic abuse can have a significant impact on children and young people, including coercive and controlling behaviour. Children and young people may experience domestic abuse directly, including in their own intimate relationships, or indirectly due to the impact the abuse has on others such as the non-abusive parent.

Theme 10 Secure Housing

Secure and suitable housing provides stability for families. It is linked to positive health and wellbeing outcomes, provides a base for children to attend school, for parents to sustain employment and for the family to contribute to their communities. A multi-agency and early intervention approach will help to identify vulnerable families and young people with housing issues or at risk of homelessness. It will also support them to resolve these issues by maintaining existing housing or, if necessary, helping them to secure suitable settled accommodation.

Theme 12 Signs of Safety

Whilst originally developed for Child Protection work Signs of Safety can be used in all levels of work with children and families. SOS is about building on the strengths and safety already present with families to build reliance and encourage families to find their own solutions to what's happening in their lives. Safety and wellbeing is not created in services but within family's homes. Practitioners work with the child or young person, their family and their support network to build safety for the child or young person.
